

Meet Amanda, a Direct Support Professional and Regional Administrative Assistant for our Residential Program. Amanda began with MOKA three years ago in the Community Supports Program before transitioning to the Residential Program and Administrative Team.

The work that Amanda does to support the people MOKA serves is life changing and we could not be more grateful for her dedication and commitment. Amanda recently sat down to share what brings her joy in her roles.

What is the most meaningful part of your job?

What I find the most joy in comes back to the way I can make the people we serve feel with the services I provide; the smiles I get out of them, just being there for them, talking with them is great. The most joy is interacting with them and helping them to meet the goals that they have set and anything else they may need.

What do you like about working in the residential home?

My main draw to the homes is that it incorporates the job I had previously with MOKA (Job Developer for Community Supports); some of the individuals have jobs, they volunteer, they are really involved in the community. I really like facilitating that, getting them out there. I like doing things they love; I get a lot of joy from that. I like when they visit me in the office, we talk about their day. I see them every other day so there is always stuff to talk about.

What makes you proud to work at MOKA?

The individuals I work with are what makes me the most proud to work at MOKA. I also love what MOKA stands for, that is what drew me to MOKA in the beginning. Seeing the joy on the faces of people we serve and doing things they love brings me joy. Additionally my coworkers - if I have a concern the supervisor and assistant supervisor will always answer my phone calls when I have a question. I feel very supported and that brings me a lot of joy. Working here for three years, I continue to be inspired by those I work with. It keeps me going, it keeps me happy.

Thank you for being part of our team, Amanda.

MOKA's Community Supports Program Partners with GRCC's Student Occupational Therapy Association to hold Event for Persons Served

“In the few years I’ve been working with MOKA, we’ve never done anything like this before, it was a ton of fun to see my worlds colliding and meshing so well. This kind of community partnership is so beneficial for everyone involved, and I know both sides came away with useful knowledge.”
