Legacy. What is a Legacy?

What Is YOUR Legacy?

Life and Legacy planning is a pivotal part of your future and the future of the people you care about.

Lin Manuel Miranda's Hamilton will tell you that a "legacy is planting seeds in a garden you never get to see." MOKA believes that those seeds grow into blossoms of love and support for the people you plant them for. Your legacy tells the story of your passions for your family, your friends, and the organizations you care so much about.

We are so thankful for the investments you make in MOKA and the positive change that those investments bring to the lives of people with intellectual and developmental disabilities in our community.

We hope that when you are thinking about your future and creating your lasting legacy, you will consider including MOKA and the people we are able to serve together.

MEET ANGEL REESE

We are so excited to spotlight one of our incredible staff members, Angel Reese, Performance Improvement Specialist. Angel is a pivotal part of our team who has been with MOKA for over 15 years! Angel's hard work and commitment to MOKA is awe inspiring and we can't wait for you to get to know more about her and her journey with MOKA.
