MOKA GET'S READY TO VOTE

MOKA PREPARED FOR THE QUICKLY APPROACHING ELECTION ON NOVEMBER 8 BY HOLDING A VOTER ENGAGEMENT TRAINING.

This training was led by Peer Mentor, Brooke Fuller and utilized a training guide that was created to assist individuals with intellectual and developmental disabilities to better understand the voting process. This training broke down the voting process into simple categories and explained how and why we vote. This training was created so the people MOKA serves could be more educated, engaged, and empowered when it comes to their constitutional right to vote.

Voting is a right for every U.S. Citizen, including those with disabilities. Taking time to ask questions and become familiar with what this process looks like is a pivotal part of making voting an inclusive event.

WE ARE PROUD TO ADVOCATE FOR EVERY PERSON USING THEIR VOICE ON ELECTION DAY AND HOPE YOU TAKE THE TIME TO VISIT THE POLLS ON NOVEMBER 8TH!

SHINING A LIGHT ON OUR SUPERHERO STAFF

"Supporting our persons served is the biggest draw to this field in general, to give the people we serve a chance to do something they are really happy with. A lot of times we take our jobs for granted and look at the workforce as something we have to do and for some of the people we support, having a job is a dream. It is like going on a massive vacation or getting your dream job. Being able to have a job, maintain it, and build relationships is a big and exciting goal. One of the most rewarding things that keeps me coming back is that it's a reminder for me to remember I need to be thankful for my job and that I'm able to work and that this job is fulfilling in so many ways."
